EXPLANATION OF COURSES OF STUDY.

The four years' course (page 30) is designed to meet the needs of those students who wish to make as thorough and extended preparation for public school work as their time and means will permit. It provides for a thorough and scientific study of the branches required by law to be taught in the district and graded schools of the State, an extended course of strictly professional training, embracing the historical, the theoretical and the practical phases of education, and a sphere of higher academic work required by those expecting to become principals of and teachers in high schools.

Many persons come to the Normal School directly from the district and grade schools, having only the scholarship acquired by the study of the common or legal branches, and not possessing that discipline which results from a higher and more efficient course of mental training. The four years' course is organized for the purpose of giving such persons a scholarship and training that will prepare them for the higher grades of public school work.

The regular three years' course (page 31) embraces the same amount of instruction in the common branches as the four years', somewhat less professional work and a smaller number of advanced academic subjects. Its object is to afford young men and young women possessing a limited scholarship, and who expect to engage in teaching in the district and grade schools of the State, the best and most thorough preparation that it is possible for them to make in a period of three years.

The course provides for forty-two terms' work, thirty-six of which are necessary for graduation. All students taking this course are required to study: (1) all the professional subjects given; (2) the common or legal branches; (3) Advanced Composition and the Graduating Thesis—twenty-three terms in all. The remaining thirteen terms required for graduation may be given to such other studies of the course as the student, with the advice of the faculty, may elect.

Three courses are provided for graduates of commissioned high schools, requiring, respectively, for completion, three years, two years and one year. The first (page 32) is an abridgment of the regular four years' course; the second (page 33) of the regular three years' course; and the third (page 34) is a special course of one year, organized to take the place of city training schools. Graduates of commissioned high schools receive a formal credit of one year, and are thus enabled to complete the four years' course in three years, and the three years' course in two years. The longer course for such graduates provides for thirty-nine terms' work. Of this number, the twenty-five marked, *, in the programme of studies, are required. The remaining fourteen may be elected by the student, with the advice of the Faculty, from the subjects given in any of the other courses.

The two years' course for graduates of commissioned high schools also consists partly of elective and partly of required work. The required subjects are those marked thus, *, in the programme of studies—twenty-three in all. The four remaining terms necessary for graduation may be elected by the student, with the advice of the faculty.

Many cities can not maintain a city training school for educating their own teachers. Only two cities in the State support such schools. The Normal School has organized a course of training for the graduates of high schools, continuing through one year, which give such preparation for teaching in the primary and intermediate grades as can be made in so short a time.

It is designed to have this course in the State Normal School supply the place of training schools for those cities that do not have training schools of their own. About one-half of the time will be given to a review of the common school branches, and the other to the different phases of professional instruction which the school imparts.

Those who complete this course will not be entitled to the diploma granted by the school, but will receive certificates showing the amount of instruction taken in the institution.

The purpose of the course is to relieve the school officers of cities from the necessity they feel of employing, as teachers, the graduates of their high schools who have had no training in teaching.

A year's training in the Normal School will add more to their efficiency as teachers than would several years' practice in teaching, and the schools will be supplied with a much better class of teachers.

During the past year 129 high school graduates have been pursuing one or another of the courses of study provided by the Normal School for such graduates. This indicates a growing conviction that, in addition to a knowledge of the subjects of instruction, the teacher should have a thorough training in the history, science and art of his profession.

The following are the high schools of the State whose graduates are entitled to enter any of the three courses described :

Amboy.	Goshen.	Oxford.
Anderson.	Greencastle.	Pendleton.

The course of one year for college graduates, given on page 34, has been organized to meet the needs of those graduates of colleges and universities who wish to enter the field of teaching and superintending schools, and who feel the need of a professional training for this work. It will be noticed that the instruction is of a strictly professional character. In planning this course it is assumed that the student has a liberal and accurate knowledge of the subjects required to be taught in the public graded and high schools. It is further assumed that this academic knowledge and training, important and necessary as it is, does not alone qualify one for the delicate and responsible work of teaching and managing schools. It is sought, therefore, to give the student that professional knowledge and skill that belong peculiarly to the teaching profession.

Only such persons are eligible to this course as have graduated from some college or university maintaining a thorough college course of not less than four years.

MISCELLANEOUS INFORMATION.

LEGISLATION.

Article VIII, Section 1, of the Constitution of Indiana, declares that—

“Knowledge and learning generally diffused throughout a community being essential to the preservation of a free government, it shall be the duty of the General Assembly to encourage, by all suitable means, moral, intellectual, scientific and agricultural improvement, and to provide by law for a general and uniform system of common schools, wherein tuition shall be without charge, and equally open to all.”

On the 20th of December, 1865, it was enacted by the General Assembly, “That there shall be established and maintained, as hereinafter provided, a State Normal School, the object of which shall be the preparation of teachers for teaching in the common schools of Indiana.”

This act provided for the location and erection of a building, the appointment of a Board of Trustees, the admission of students, the organization of the school, and the annual appropriation of funds for tuition and expenses.

DISCIPLINE OF THE SCHOOL.

The end of all school government and discipline, intelligently conceived and administered, is the rational self-control and self-direction of the pupil. This is to be the outcome in the pupil. The effort is made to derive all rules of government from the inherent nature and purposes of the organization itself. This is the true basis of such rules; from this alone they derive their authority, and not from the teacher's will and utterance. A system of school regulations which aims only at arbitrary restraint, without leading the pupil to order his conduct by clearly conceived principles of right doing, lacks the most essential educative qualities. The formation of correct habits of thought and action—the development of worthy character—these are the true aims of school discipline. The discipline of the Normal School is administered in this general thought and spirit. Students are led to see the reasonableness of the requirements made of them, so that their obedience may be intelligent and educative. In respect to discipline, as in all other particulars, the Normal School seeks to make itself in fact what it must be by definition—a model school.

RELATION TO THE STATE UNIVERSITY AND TO WABASH COLLEGE.

Arrangements have been made with the Indiana University and with Wabash College whereby graduates of the State Normal School who have completed the English and Latin course will be admitted to the Junior class in these institutions, and on the completion of two years' work, which is largely elective, will receive the degree of B. S.

Graduates of these colleges, and others of equal rank, may receive the diploma of the Normal School on the completion of one year's course in this institution. The time is devoted exclusively to professional study preparatory to teaching. See course on page 34.

EXPENSES.

Board, including fuel and light, can be had in good families at $3.00 to $4.00 per week, according to the quality of accommodations. There are good facilities for self-boarding, and for club-boarding in the city, at a cost of $2.50 to $3.00 per week. Nearly all the students board in clubs, thus reducing their entire expenses to $2.50 per week for good accommodations. The expenses of many do not exceed $2.00 per week. The only charge made by the school is the janitor's fee of $1.00 per term.

The necessary expenses for a year in the Normal School will not vary greatly from the following estimate:

Room rent, 39 weeks at 75c.	$29 25
Board, 39 weeks at $1.75	68 25
Fuel and lights	5 00

Washing and incidentals	$20 00
Janitor's fee, $1.00 per term	3 00
Books and stationery	10 00
	<hr/>
Total	$135 50
Necessary expenses for one term of 13 weeks	45 00

WHAT TO DO ON ARRIVING.

Any one coming as a student, and unacquainted in the city, can report at the Normal building at any reasonable hour, where some one will be found to give needed information in regard to boarding. Students arriving by night trains will find suitable accommodations at the Terre Haute House and the National House, which are on the line of the street railway.

ATTENTION

Is called to the following statements:

First. Tuition is free.

Second. The instruction is thorough and systematic.

Third. The discipline is such as to lead the pupil to self-government and the formation of a worthy character.

Fourth. Two good literary societies are in successful operation.

Fifth. Students are required to observe until they can accurately report and interpret the meaning of each exercise, and to practice teaching, under criticism, until they can plan and conduct recitations and manage classes efficiently.

Sixth. Capable undergraduates obtain good situations at good salaries.

Seventh. Graduates are commanding from $50 to $200 per month.

Eighth. THE DIPLOMA OF THE NORMAL SCHOOL IS, BY LAW OF THE STATE, EQUIVALENT TO A STATE CERTIFICATE, RELIEVING THE HOLDER FROM COUNTY EXAMINATIONS.

Ninth. No student will be admitted to the Normal School who does not intend, in good faith, to qualify himself or herself to teach in the public schools of the State.

Tenth. It is important that every student expecting to attend the Normal School should be present the first day of the term, that all may be examined at once and classified. Those who enter a few days after the beginning of the term take, in their examination, the time of teachers which should be given to instruction. Be present, ready for work, on the first day of the term.

Eleventh. Every student admitted will be required to give satisfactory evidence of good moral character and of fair intellectual ability. The personal appearance and conduct of the individual, together with a letter from some responsible citizen to whom the bearer is personally known, will be taken as evidence of character.

Twelfth. After reasonable trial, if a student shows lack of ability or application, or of moral character, to achieve fair success as a teacher, he or she will be advised to withdraw from the school and seek some other vocation.

Thirteenth. Those desiring other information respecting the Normal School than that contained in this register are requested to address State Normal School, Terre Haute, Indiana.

CERTIFICATES AND DIPLOMAS.

Section 4557 of the school law of Indiana reads as follows: "The Board of Trustees is authorized to grant, from time to time, certificates of proficiency to such teachers as shall have completed any of the prescribed courses of study, and whose moral character and disciplinary relations to the school shall be satisfactory. At the expiration of two years after graduation, satisfactory evidence of professional ability to instruct and manage a school having been received, they shall be entitled to diplomas appropriate to such professional degrees as the Trustees shall confer upon them, which diploma shall be considered sufficient evidence of qualification to teach in any of the schools of this State."

Graduates who make application for diplomas under the above provisions of the law, are required to produce certificates of their success in instruction and school management, and as to the time taught, from county superintendents, township trustees, superintendents of graded schools of towns or cities or from corporation school trustees.

By a rule of the Board of Trustees, satisfactory evidence of twelve months' successful experience in teaching, after completing the course of study, entitles the graduate to the diploma of the Institution.

As a means of promoting still greater thoroughness on the part of those nearing graduation from the school, the Board of Trustees, by a recent action, requires, "That all candidates for graduation from the Normal School shall be required to hold a county license to teach for a period of not less than two years; said license having been issued within the five years next preceding the date of Commencement for the given year. Or that such persons shall receive a grade in an examination conducted by the faculty, on the questions used in the county examination, that would entitle them to a license for not less than two years, if the examination were taken under a county superintendent."

CONDITIONS OF ADMISSION.

First. Sixteen years of age, if females, and eighteen, if males.

Second. Good health.

Third. Satisfactory evidence of undoubted moral character.

Fourth. A pledge that the applicant will, if practicable, teach in the common schools of Indiana, a period equal to twice that spent as a student in the Normal School.

Fifth. A fair knowledge of the following subjects: Spelling, Writing, Reading, English Grammar, Geography, United States History, Physiology, and Arithmetic.

TEXT-BOOKS.

Students should bring with them such standard text-books as they have for the purpose of reference.

A good dictionary is indispensable.

The following text books are in use in the school:

Reed and Kellogg's Grammar, Whitney's Grammar, Hill's Elements of Composition and Rhetoric, Humke's School Reading, Academic Dictionary, Scott's Development of Constitutional Liberty, Johnston's American Politics, Myer's General History, Newby's Number Science, Wentworth's Geometry and Trigonometry, Wentworth's Algebra, Harkness' Latin Grammar, Harkness' Cæsar and Cicero, Harkness' Latin Composition, Virgil's Æneid, Bennett's Easy Latin Stories, Collar and Daniel's Beginner's Latin Book, Sandison's Theory of the School, Harris' Study of Philosophy, Martin's Human Body (large edition,) LeConte's Geology, Cooley's New Elementary Chemistry, Gage's Physics Gray's Manual, Arthur, Barnes and Coulter's Plant Dissection, Colton's Practical Zoölogy, Jordan's Manual of Vertebrates, Seiler's Notes on Mathematical Geography, Guiot's Physical Geography, Barnes' Complete Geography (Indiana edition), Giffé's Vocal Drill Book.

DEPARTMENTS.

The departments of the school are the following :

Department of History and Philosophy of Education.

Department of Grammar, Composition and Literature.

Department of Biology and Geology.

Department of Reading.

Department of History.

Department of Geography.

Department of Mathematics.

Department of Latin.

Department of Mental Science and Methods.

Department of Music.

Department of Drawing and Penmanship.

Department of Physics and Chemistry.

ADVANCED STANDING BY EXAMINATIONS.

The Normal School is authorized to give a formal credit on its course only for graduation from a commissioned high school or from a college or university. All persons not holding diplomas from such institutions, and wishing to be excused from the study of any subjects in the course of instruction, are required to pass thorough and satisfactory examinations in such subjects. Effort is made to give every person full credit for all knowledge of subjects possessed on entering, and to assist him to advance as rapidly, and to graduate as soon as is consistent with a thorough teacher's knowledge of the subjects studied.

SPECIAL CLASSES IN SPRING TERM.

Many teachers of experience and good scholarship desire to spend one term in reviewing certain subjects which they are required to teach, or in pursuing certain professional studies, and yet are precluded from taking an extended course of study in any institution. Some of these are the leading teachers in their respective counties. They are prevented from pursuing a systematic course of study by being under the necessity of teaching during the fall and winter. To such persons of mature years, experience in teaching, who hold a high grade of license, and who enter the Normal School for the spring term only, the privilege of taking a special course will be accorded. For the benefit of these, special classes will be organized, if necessary, in Mental Science, Methods, Observation in Training Schools, Science of Education, U. S. History, Algebra and Physiology.

LECTURE ASSOCIATION.

A lecture association exists in connection with the school, whose object is to provide annually a course of lectures and entertainments of a high order for the benefit of the students, and at the lowest possible cost. For the past four years the lectures have been so well patronized that tickets for the entire course of from five to seven lectures have been sold to students at the low price of $1. During the past school year the following lectures and entertainments have been given by the association :

November 26. Bishop Vincent, "Among the Heights."

February 4. Henry Watterson, "Money and Morals."

February 24. Ignatius Donnelly, "Who Wrote Shakespeare?"

April 4. Will Carleton, "The Drama of Human Nature."

April 17. Schubert Quartette.

May 2. Mrs. Mary A. Livermore, "Perils of the Republic."

June 3. George R. Wendling, "Popular Delusions."

—————Col. Francis W. Parker, —————.

In addition to the regular course, the following lectures have been given :

Prof. Barnes, "Myths."

Mr. Foster, "National Reforms."

Dr. D. S. Jordan, "Yellowstone Park."

Col. Thomas H. Nelson, "Mexico."

Dr. W. E. Sheldon, "The Teacher's Personal Qualifications."

Prof. D. J. Snider, "The Shakesperian Drama "

Mrs. May Wright Sewell, "Our Foreign Critics."

Prof. W. A. Bell, "How We Grow."

PRESENT CONDITION OF THE SCHOOL.

The current school year opened on the 17th of September last. The new Normal School building, while not entirely completed, was advanced far enough for the school to take possession of it. The work of the year was accordingly begun in the new building. The entire basement is fitted up for school purposes, the heating apparatus being in a separate building erected for it, thus giving a larger amount of room for the work of the school than the old building contained.

While the new building is not so high by one story as the old, there is in it, by reason of placing the heating apparatus in a separate building, considerably more available room for school purposes. It cost less, but is thought to be architecturally much superior, and is, in its internal structure and arrangement, in every way better adapted to the needs of the institution. Through the liberality of the city of Terre Haute, which gave promptly $50,000 to aid in the restoration of the building, and the appropriation by the last General Assembly of $100,000 for the same purpose, the institution finds itself to-day in the possession of more ample and suitable quarters than it has heretofore enjoyed; with a library superior to that lost by the fire, with better furniture for the building, and with more and better apparatus, appliances and materials of all kinds for all departments of its work.

By reference to page 29, of this catalogue, it will be seen that the year ending June 27, 1890, has been one of the most prosperous of the school's history, the total number of different students being 823, and the average term enrollment, 463. Not only has the number of students steadily increased, with slight variations, but the ability and scholarship of those entering has been found of a higher order. Several measures have been taken to promote greater thoroughness and higher efficiency in the institution's work. In former years students were permitted to carry regularly five studies, giving them twenty-five lessons per week. Under this plan the lesson or recitation periods were forty minutes in length. A readjustment of the course of study was made which fixed the maximum number of studies for the student to pursue at one time as four, and extended the recitation periods to fifty-five minutes, making twenty hours work per week the maximum required. This change has been found beneficial, enabling students to concentrate their attention upon fewer subjects, and thus acquire a more thorough mastery of them.

One of the courses of study has been extended to a full four years' course, in order to provide a realm of academic work that would prepare students for the higher common school work of the State.

It is not the function of the State Normal School to prepare teachers for colleges and universities. It does not attempt to do this. Its province is to give the most thorough and efficient preparation possible for all grades of common school work—instruction and management of district schools, superintending county schools, high school teaching, and superintending town and city schools.

To these phases of education it addresses its whole energy. On this ground, and for this purpose alone, it is believed, the State maintains the Institution. It is the policy of the present management of the school to raise gradually the standard of admission and to require from year to year a higher standard of excellence in all the work done. As a final test of the student's fitness to graduate from the Institution it is required, by a rule of the Board of Trustees, that all candidates for graduation shall hold a county license to teach in Indiana for a period of not less than two years, said license to have been issued within a period of five years next preceding the end of the current school year.

It may be stated that the excellent moral tone and character of the school are fully up to the standard of previous years. A large majority of the students in attendance are self-supporting. They are prompt, industrious, persevering and earnest in their efforts to acquire an education. They come largely from the farming and laboring classes, and have habits of industry and activity that are of the highest service to the student. The State may be congratulated on the fact that so large a body of capable young men and women are making thorough preparation to engage in the teaching and management of her common schools.

ENTRANCE EXAMINATIONS.

The following questions on the common school branches were used with the entering students at the opening of the spring term, April 1, 1890, and may be regarded as fair examples of the questions submitted in the entrance examinations from term to term:

UNITED STATES HISTORY.

1. Define local government.
2. Explain the government of a township in Indiana.
3. Define general government.
4. Which was stronger, the local or the general government, as provided by the Articles of Confederation?
5. State three important differences between the general government in the U. S. between 1781 and 1789, and that provided by the present constitution.
6. Which section of the country had the best school system at the time of the Declaration of Independence? Why?
7. Compare the industrial life of the South with that of the North in 1832.
8. What was the principal object in the admission of Texas?
9. Write from twelve to twenty lines on the following subject: Should the general government assist in educating the children of the several States?

(Answer any five.)

PHYSIOLOGY.

1. Define anatomy; physiology; hygiene.
2. What is the function of the biceps muscle?
- 3 and 4. Why are many of the bones hollow? If the humerus were solid and of the same diameter that it now is, would it be stronger or weaker? Explain.

5. What are the essential parts of a joint?
6. Describe the spinal column.
7. What should be the approximate temperature of the school-room?
8. Name three kinds of tissue found in the body.
9. Why should the skin be kept clean?
10. What is the use of the nails?

(Answer any five.)

READING.

1. What two word studies constitute a necessary foundation for the intelligent study of reading? Give reasons.
2. Write five words containing different suffixes that mean little.
3. State the meaning of the prefixes in the following words: Adjective, abstract, antecedent, irregular, preposition, subscribe, uneasy, express, intervene, diameter.
4. Why should proper pronunciation be a fixed habit? Answer fully and definitely.
5. Mark diacritically—the a in water, the e in neighbor, the i in irksome, the o in lose, the oo in root, the u in sugar, the c's in cancer, the g's in gauge, the th in thither and the s in season.
6. In what relation does reading stand to the other branches of study? State fully.
7. Which is the more important, silent or oral reading? Why?
8. State briefly the relation existing between silent and oral reading.
9. Interpret the following sentence: Life is a school.
10. Name five ways of emphasizing a word in oral reading?

(Answer any five.)

GEOGRAPHY.

1. What are the polar circles? Upon what does their position depend?
2. Why is August a warmer month than June?

3. Name and locate the five highest plateaus of which you have any knowledge.

4. State concerning each of the following regions, whether it is, in general, a low plain or a high land area: Northern Germany, England, Bolivia, Minnesota, Southern India.

5. Name in order all the waters on which a vessel would sail in passing from the head of Lake Superior to the Atlantic Ocean.

6. Should the subject of "Tides" be studied by classes in geography? Give reason for your view.

7. What States are touched by the Missouri river, not including any of its tributaries?

8. Give as nearly as you can the direction and distance of each of the following cities from New York: London, Chicago, New Orleans, Rio Janeiro, Calcutta.

9. Designate some locality in the United States which, in your opinion, would especially favor the establishment and growth of a great city in the future. Give reasons for your opinion.

10. What are the characteristic exports of each of the following cities: New Orleans, Chicago, Duluth, New York and Louisville?

(Answer any five.)

GRAMMAR.

1. Write two examples of the class, the collective, the mass, and the abstract noun.

2. He who is diligent will succeed. Classify the pronouns in the above sentence, giving reasons.

3. This is the place where the examination is held. Is the above sentence simple, compound or complex? Why?

4. Give the use of the underscored expression in the above sentence; also, of the word where.

5. Give the principal parts of the following verbs: (a) blow; (b) burst; (c) sit; (d) wring; (e) drunk.

6. Write four sentences containing respectively a clause, used as (a) subject; (b) objective modifier; (c) adjective modifier; (d) appositive modifier.

7. Analyze or diagram: An old clock early one summer's morning suddenly stopped.

8. Parse morning in the above sentence.

9. Write a sentence containing a verb in the passive voice, potential mood, present tense.

10. Correct, if necessary, and give reasons: (a) it was an awful fine day; (b) him that is idle, reprove; (c) who do you want to see? (d) I did not know where you was at.

(Answer any five.)

ARITHMETIC.

1. A can cut a cord of wood in $\frac{3}{4}$ of a day, and B can cut a cord in $\frac{4}{5}$ of a day. In what time can they together cut a cord?

2. A piece of cloth when measured by a yard-stick that was $\frac{2}{3}$ of an inch too short, appeared to contain $10\frac{1}{2}$ yards. Required the length of the cloth.

3. For what sum must I give my note in bank, payable in 4 months at 10%, to obtain $300?

4. How many bushels of wheat will fill a bin 20 feet by 12 feet by 5 feet? (Answer to two decimal places.)

5. A cellar 40 feet long by 30 feet wide, has 3 feet of water in it. What will it cost to pump it out at 2c. per hhd.?

6. A and B had the same number of sheep each. A sold $\frac{3}{4}$ of his and B sold $\frac{1}{2}$ of his, when the number remaining in both lots was 240. How many had each at first?

7. If a wheel turn $17^{\circ}30'$ in 35 minutes, in what time will it make a revolution?

8. If I travel from Terre Haute until my watch is 1 hour and 3 min. too slow, have I traveled east or west, and how far?

9. A owes B $1,800; B offers to allow 5% off for cash. A pays $1,425. How much is still due?

10. A board is 20 feet long and 9 inches wide. What is it worth at $30 per M.?

(Answer any five.)
